Caroline Bull, CCT Venues managing director, said: "We are very excited about the launch of our third London venue in a little over three years. We have had our eye on the Canary Wharf area for some time but have been waiting for the right location to become available."

"We have to offer our Canary Wharf clients the same high-quality mix of facilities, services and excellent transport links as our Smithfield and Barbican sites. But we also look for an extra little something special in our venues. We believe the large terraces, stunning river views and the riverfront restaurant more than fit the bill here."
